

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – RecordMax Partners With Industry Leader
Kodak for Desktop Scanning and Production Scanning Solutions

October 10th, 2007 – Jackson, Mississippi

The RecordMax Companies announced the a strategic reseller agreement with as a Kodak Desktop Scanner Reseller. The Kodak Corporation, a proven leader in scanning/imaging technology for decades, will offer RecordMax the ability to deliver a comprehensive array of desktop scanners for a variety of specific needs or applications.

During a good portion of last year, RecordMax reviewed a host of choices visiting directly with representatives of most every major scanning hardware manufacturer before selecting Kodak as its primary production equipment provider for its in-house commercial scanning bureaus. Deciding factors included the feedback of leading hardware distributors, leading consultants and the specific advice from some of the nation's largest bureaus with annual scanning volume in the 300,000,000 image range.

RecordMax recently chose our primary systems development partner and wanted production level scanning capabilities with a manufacturer that was similarly a 'best of brand' solution. "I personally got hands on demonstrations with various folks offering up some very powerful scanning solutions" offered Jim Teske, President of RecordMax USA. "The bottom line is that while other manufacturers have some great products, the combination of a dominant market share position within service bureaus, high level convincing testimonials and a very distributor-friendly reseller program made Kodak the first choice."

The new services available through the new partnerships with Kodak and others including Digitech Systems are expected to include file preparation, scanning, indexing, digital storage and workflow solutions provided by RecordMax personnel as well as resale, installation and training for software and scanning hardware within customer facilities. The initial installation in RecordMax's flagship operation in Jackson, Mississippi provides active service to a major healthcare provider. RecordMax not only has several pending customers but will automate some of its own internal processes with the new hardware from Kodak and software from Digitech. An initial focus on healthcare, legal and financial applications includes managing release of patient information and workflow management of accounts payable needs.
