

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – RecordMax New Orleans Adds Another 100,000 Cubic Feet of Storage Capacity

November 1st, 2010 – New Orleans, LA

RecordMax New Orleans recently announced completion of another major shelving installation based on its continued growth and expansion in the Greater New Orleans area.

RecordMax worked with long time shelving systems supplier REB Storage Systems in designing and constructing a new shelving array capable of holding up to 100,000 cubic feet of hardcopy records to be stored within containers. The new installation involved a major shipment of uprights, cross beams, guide rails and specialized decking in combination with a crew that assured the new system complemented the existing storage design at the constantly expanding New Orleans operation. As noted, guide rails protect the system from damage in conjunction with the use of Crown Order Pickers that lift RecordMax records center personnel up to 20 feet in the air to access stored information assets. Cross beams were labeled at the completion of the installation with specially formatted location barcodes to assure easy identification and tracking of all stored containers placed into the system.

The new installation followed an expansion of leased space for RecordMax...which has enjoyed unprecedented growth in Greater New Orleans. RecordMax has a long term multi-term lease agreement for its Jefferson Parish storage facilities. This most recent build-out was the third major expansion in the last several years for RecordMax; which when combined support nearly 250,000 cubic feet of added capacity.

“All the growth here has been very exciting” offered General Manager Gary Cooper, who has responsibility over operations and also plays a key role in business development for RecordMax in the area. “We’ve added a variety of new storage solutions for customers including capacity for boxed records, open shelf medical records and specialized climate controlled film and media. Combined with our additions of other services such as imaging as well as shredding consoles and containers, we really feel like both existing and new customers have embraced what we’re doing in the New Orleans area” added Cooper.
