

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – RecordMax Principal Elected to Lead International Industry Association in 2012

November 2nd, 2011 – Jackson, MS; Chattanooga, TN; Mobile, AL; New Orleans, LA

RecordMax USA is pleased to announce that RecordMax principal Jim Teske has been elected President of PRISM International for 2012. PRISM International is the recognized trade association for commercial information management service providers with members in more than sixty (60) countries around the world.

Mr. Teske will succeed 2011 President Chris Pearson of Vanguard Archives in Chicago. Jim has been on the PRISM Board of Directors for two years serving as an At Large Board Director from the U.S.

“Being on the Board of Directors at PRISM International has been very rewarding” offered Teske. “There is a lot going on within records & information management as well as within our association as service providers. Increasing digitization and new technologies along with regulatory issues on privacy, confidentiality and fire protection make for a very dynamic environment” Teske added. “I can only hope to measure up to the leadership and dedication shown by Chris Pearson. Next year will offer new opportunities in not only privacy certification programs but both affiliations and potentially our overall structure. Travel to both the Philippines and Belgium will provide for a firsthand look at several of our international peers in information services management. Hopefully all that experience provides additional benefits to RecordMax customers.”
