

RecordMax Chattanooga Selected by the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga for School of Nursing Imaging Project

June 30th, 2012 – Chattanooga, Tennessee

Earlier this month, RecordMax responded to a bid from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga for a significant imaging project. Approximately thirteen (13) different companies from across the nation submitted proposals and we feel fortunate to have been selected by the School of Nursing as the vendor of choice.

The project involved hundreds of thousands of documents that needed to be prepped, scanned, indexed and returned to the University in short order. Upon confirmation of approved terms and conditions in conjunction with the winning proposal, RecordMax representatives personally met with Nursing School leaders as well as UTC purchasing and administrative leadership to assure there were no surprises and to assure all expectations were met or exceeded.

Department Manager Barbara Cooper, CDIA+, worked with Chattanooga Branch Manager Shari Hixson to define the scope of the project, outline required resources and even brought in additional hardware and software solutions from other facilities based on the limited delivery timeframes. A growing commitment to digital services requires RecordMax operate with its own Rapid Deployment Solution; such that resources can be moved from location to location as needed and minimize costs to the customer and the RecordMax bottom line. As of this writing, the project was completed on time and right on budget.

On a very related note, RecordMax recently announced a new “imaging test drive” program through which customers can take advantage of a “try before you buy” service trial that includes the preparation of up to 500 pages of documents or files for capture, and the imaging of those pages into either a tiff or pdf format. This trial also includes the indexing of several fields of descriptive data, and delivery of the digital records back to you on a CD, flash drive or via FTPS.
